Introduction to Horse Handling

Have you ever thought about a job in racing but don't know where to start? Come and learn the foundation skills from legendary jockey Clare Lindop and registered Racing SA horse retrainer Sonya Little from Lincoln Park.

Racing careers are predominantly outdoors; good for mind, body and spirit and all round health.

Working alongside animals can be very satisfying and this course will provide you with a unique introduction to the racing industry and knowledge of what happens behind the scenes in the racing industry, including stable-hand, trackwork and other industry related roles.

Course includes:

- Safely approach, catch, control and lead horses
- Perform routine stable duties, cleaning, mucking out, feeding and watering horses, groom horses, daily care and welfare responsibilities.
- Get an understanding of the structure of the racing industry and explore race day operations and racing employment opportunities

The course is designed for people who are:

- Interested in animals, learning new skills and industry specific terminology
- Hardworking and enthusiastic
- Ability to carry out physical tasks
- Can work in a team environment
- Experience with horses may be helpful but not all jobs need past experience

An Introduction to Horse Handling session will be held at Lincoln Park at Monarto South. For more information or to register your interest via the expressions of interest form, head to racingsa.com.au/careers. The course is $50, which covers costs to use the facilities at not-for-profit Lincoln Park, with light refreshments provided.

Course suitable to those 13-and-over.

Completing this course does not guarantee you a position.

Class sizes are limited
